

English Language Teaching PERSPECTIVES

Vol. X Issue (1-2) August 2025

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH EDUCATION

Faculty of Education

Prithvi Narayan Campus, Pokhara

Tribhuvan University, Nepal

Phone No.: 977-61-526837

Email: enged@pncampus.edu.np

Website : www.prnc.tu.edu.np

Copyright: © Department of English Education, FoE, P.N. Campus

Licensing Statement : This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution- Non Commercial 4.0 International License

TABLE OF CONTENTS

The Role of Students' Mother Tongue in EFL Classes
Pitamber Gautam 	1
Nepali Students' Anxiety in the EFL Classroom: Recognizing its Reasons, Reactions, and Coping Strategies
Shankar Dewan 	18
Gender Differences in Reading Comprehension Abilities Among Undergraduate Students in English Texts
Bishnu Kumar Khadka, PhD  & Prof. Jai Raj Awasthi, PhD	30
Online Professional Development for English Teachers: An Autoethnographic Study
Sujeet Karki  & Bharat Prasad Neupane, PhD 	43
Translanguaging Practices in Secondary Level English Classrooms in Indigenous Communities of Bangladesh
Naiem Alamin 	59
Mother Tongue Based Instruction for Developing Communicative Competence of EFL Learners: Teachers' Experiences
Bhumi Raj Pandit 	73
Cultrural Hegemony and Reistance in Shivaraj Vijaya
Yog Raj Paudel 	83
Motivations for Specializing in English at the Graduate Level of University Education: A Narrative Inquiry
Hari Atreya 	97
Professional Development of Secondary School English Language Teachers During and After COVID-19 Pandemic
Md. Mominul Haque  & Abdullah Al-Mamun 	107
The Evolution of English in Nepalese Education: Policies and Practices
Narayan Prasad Sapkota 	124

